

VERMONT AT JAMESTOWN

Progress of State's Exhibit at The Exposition

IS YET FAR FROM COMPLETE

The State Building Will Probably Be Finished by the Middle of the Month—Quarry Exhibits Are Complete.

Vermont was represented at the formal opening of the Jamestown tercentennial exposition April 26 by Lieut. Gov. George H. Prouty of Newport and Adj. Gen. William H. Gilmore of Fairlee, representing the state, and by Secretary Charles S. Forbes of St. Albans of the Vermont state commission.

Other Vermonters present at the opening day were Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Cross of St. Johnsbury, A. J. Croft of Enosburgh Falls and M. H. Miller of Randolph.

It was very gratifying to the Vermont party to note that the Vermont exhibits of quarry products in the Mines building was in place and ready for inspection when the building was thrown open to visitors on the morning of April 26.

Vermont has 1,500 square feet of space in the Mines building, and among the Vermont exhibits will be flags, pictures, enlarged views of the leading industries, 200 specimens of Vermont flora, 50 varieties of woods, products of farms, etc.

Vermont's Exhibit Here Complete.

In the Mines and Metallurgy building Vermont has 800 square feet of space. The exhibit was installed and ready for inspection on the opening day of the exposition, and it was the only state exhibit in this building that was complete April 26. There are a few additions yet to be made to this exhibit in the way of large photographs of quarries and works and marble and marbled slate waisting, but the original exhibit was in position for inspection before that of any other state. The exhibit of the quarry products of Vermont is the most extensive of any ever collected before for exhibition purposes. It consists of more than 50 varieties of marble, granite and slate, representing nearly every quarry in the state.

The exhibit is mostly in the form of slabs and cubes. It is displayed on a succession of platforms, and in glass cases and on tables.

In the Pure Foods building Vermont occupies a space of 1,000 square feet. This space was turned over by the Vermont commission to the Vermont Sugar Makers' association and the Vermont Dairy Makers' association, for exhibiting the maple and dairy products of the state. The space is divided between these two industries but the dairy exhibit will not be made until later, when conditions are more favorable for such an exhibit. The Vermont Sugar Makers' association will for the present occupy the greater part of this space in the Pure Foods building.

Maple Sugar Display.
The Vermont Maple Sugar Makers' association will be represented in the Pure Foods building by A. J. Croft, president, and by M. H. Miller, who is president.

The Vermont Building.
The Vermont state building to contain many exhibits is nearly completed and will probably be finished by the middle of May. The building will be an attractive one and well adapted for the purpose for which it was designed. Many of the state buildings are in an unfinished condition and some of them will not be ready until after the Vermont building is completed.

The state commission has secured the services of W. B. Butler, son of C. C. Butler of Windsor and a grandson of the late Gov. Charles Goddard of this state, to look after the interests of the commission for the present at the exposition. Mr. Butler will have charge of the installation of exhibits in the Vermont space in the States Exhibit building and of the quarry products in the Mines building. He will also have charge of the Vermont state building until a permanent custodian is appointed.

(The above information is furnished by Col. C. S. Forbes of the state commission.)

WATKINS NOT BANKRUPT.

Petition of Boston Liquor Man in Brattleboro Case Heard.

Brattleboro, May 6.—Arguments were made before U. S. Judge J. L. Martin today on a petition brought by Boston liquor firm to have Ex-Alderman Edward S. Watkins of Rutland now a traveling salesman, declared bankrupt. The firm are creditors of the late George C. McCloy of Rutland.

Mr. McCloy and Mr. Watkins were partners in a saloon one year beginning May 1, 1905. Mr. Watkins being made a silent partner in consideration of his loaning Mr. McCloy $1,200 with which to pay a license fee. At the end of the year Mr. Watkins received his $1,200 back and in addition $6,000 as his share of the profits for the year. Mr. McCloy died last October.

The action against Mr. Watkins was brought on the ground of partnership. Mr. Watkins claimed at the hearing that he was not bankrupt and displayed stocks and bonds worth $10,000. He claimed also that the petition could not hold as the partnership was a wage-earner, before the petition was brought, and further that the petition was against him individually instead of the firm. Judge Martin said his decision, when formally made, would be against the petition.

CLOSE CALL FOR MRS. ROOSEVELT.

Flag Pole of The Sylph Fell to The Deck Near Where She Stood.

Washington, May 6.—Mrs. Roosevelt and a number of women accompanying her aboard the yacht Sylph narrowly escaped a serious accident as the boat reached Washington Friday, on its return from a trip down the Potomac river. Through some misunderstanding the boat went past her dock and crashed into a tugboat. The shock was so severe that the flagpole of the Sylph fell to the deck with a crash, narrowly missing Mrs. Roosevelt and those with her, among whom were Mrs. Clifford Richardson of New York and Mrs. Bacon, the wife of the assistant secretary of state. None was hurt.

Hisses, Groans and Shuffling Feet Greet Every Mention of Mr. Roosevelt's Name—Faint Cheers for "Old Glory."

New York May 6.—Appropriating to themselves as a badge of honor the President's designation of Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone as "undesirable citizens," greeting with hisses, groans and shuffling of feet every mention of Mr. Roosevelt's name, cheering half-heartedly the American flag and uproariously the red flag, the Socialists of this city and a few labor organizations joined Saturday night in a demonstration the most pretentious of its sort this city has ever known.

It was a protest not only against the method of prosecuting the Western labor leaders now about to be tried for their lives in Idaho, but against existing institutions. Socialism played a leading role throughout. Anarchy as an organization was barred from the parade but the red flags were more abundant than the Stars and Stripes.
